

Northwest Reined Cow Horse Association Non-Pro Beginning Boxing

1. Rider may not have won more than $100 at any horse show (NRCHA, NRHA, NCHA...) or accumulated 10 Breed Association points in any working horse event (reining, cutting, sorting, penning...).
2. In accordance with NRCHA $5,000 Non-Pro Limited class, rider is not to have earned more than $750 in "down the fence" classes to be eligible for the NWRCHA Beginning Boxing Class.
3. Eligibility will be determined as of January 1st of each year. This means that if you win a class(s) where your earnings will total $100 or more during the 2023 show season, you will continue to be eligible for the NWRCHA Non-Pro Beginning Boxing class for the rest of the 2023 NWRCHA shows. You will not be eligible for the Beginning Boxing in 2024 or after.
4. The Beginning Boxing will be run concurrent with the NRCHA Non Pro Limited Boxing Class. A Separate entry fee for each class applies.
5. A silver belt buckle will be awarded to the Non-Pro winner of the Beginning Boxing class on Sunday afternoon after the final class of the day has been completed or an earlier time will be announced. To be eligible to win the buckle, you must compete in both the Saturday and Sunday Beginning Boxing class.
6. NO Year-End Awards will be offered in the Beginning Boxing class.
7. Membership with the NWRCHA is not required to show in the Beginning Boxing.
8. Chaps are not required to show in either the Beginning Boxing. A long sleeve shirt and western hat are required.
9. Rider may use any NRCHA approved bit and may choose to ride one or two-handed regardless of bit choice.
10. Rider may cross-enter with other AQHA, NRCHA and/or NWRCHA classes at our shows. Rule #3 (see above) will still apply for any monies won. NRCHA and AQHA rules will prevail for cross-entries.
